

THOMAS MUAT

FULL STACK
SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

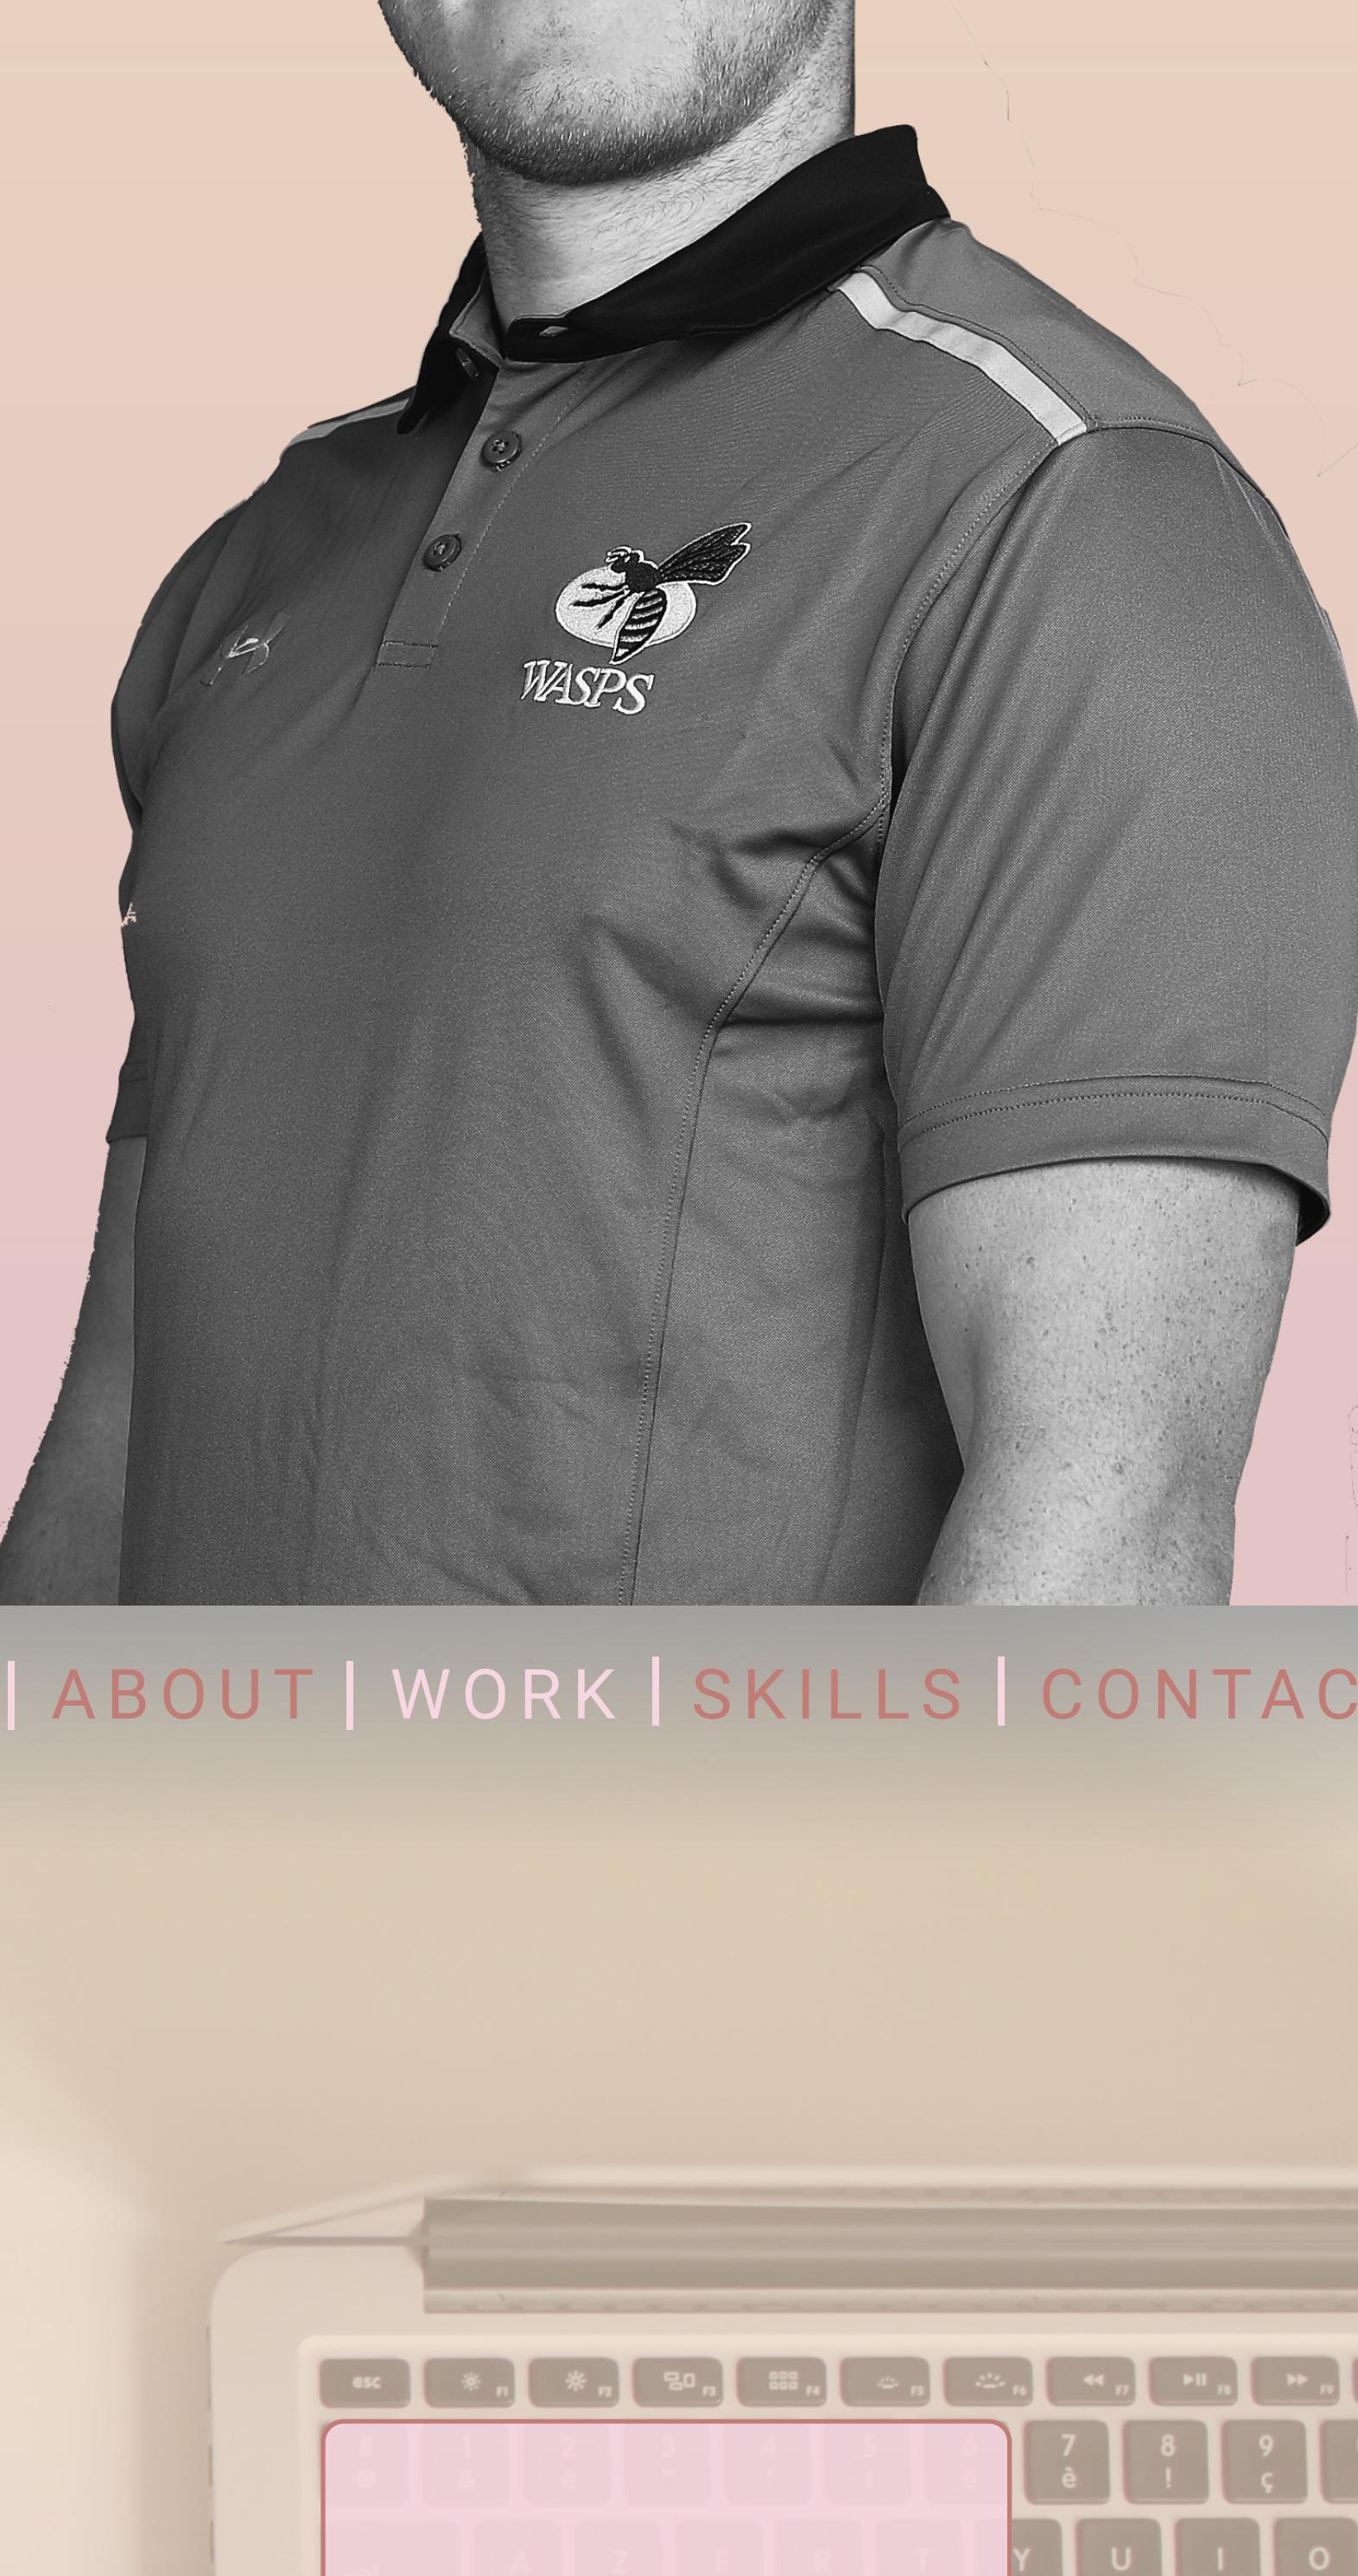

ABOUT ME

I am a newly qualified full stack software developer. I have recently transitioned careers from a sports performance analyst with the help of Code Institute.

I specialise in HTML 5, CSS, Javascript & Python; I aim to create responsive websites with clean and functional design; working with I work with both front-end & back-end frameworks.

I am passionate about designing and creating engaging user-centred websites to allow all users and customers to be completely satisfied when using your products and services.
